

Poems

High School Winner

Over thirty-five years, fifty million heartbeats have ceased,
Injustice, tears, and outcries have increased.
Although among many the defense of life is spurned,
Roe v. Wade must be overturned.

The morality of society dwindles today,
As old and young life is merely thrown away.
Although the young and vulnerable may not have a voice,
Their lives ought not to end through "choice."

While the plight of the mother cannot be ignored,
The genocide of innocent life must be abhorred.
Regardless of circumstance or intention,
All deserve equal care, there is no exception.

Parallel to abortion, euthanasia is as important of a concern.
How can we educate the populace that all might learn
To appreciate the profound dignity of the aged,
Who have bequeathed their lives to the world merely to be degraded?

The rights to life and liberty within the Constitution are explicitly protected.
With regard to life issues, this safeguard cannot be neglected.
Society has the obligation to work to preserve
The lives of all its members, as they deserve.

These life principles are at the core of the natural law.
Written on all people's hearts there is no flaw.
God has placed equal value on all human existence.
We must advocate life with valor and persistence.

Veronica Ruf
Glen Burnie, MD